

Chas. Brown Wins UNC Scholarship

An Eflans native has been named winner of the "distinguished" Herbert Worth Jackson Scholarship at the University of North Carolina here, William M. Geer, director of student aid, announced today.

First in his class at Orange High School, Hillsborough, Charles Gordon Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alton Brown of Efland.

"One of the distinguished scholarships at the University," the Jackson Award was endowed by Mrs. Annie H. Jackson of Richmond, Va., in 1938 as a memorial to her husband, Herbert Worth Jackson, UNC Class of 1886.

The fund maintains four scholarships for entering freshmen, native-born male North Carolina residents nominated by their high schools.

Students are selected on the basis of high scholastic rank, character, qualities of leadership, achievement, physical health and vigor, and promise of future distinction. A new four-year award is made annually.

Brown plans to major in geology or journalism at the University here.

In high school he has been active in many organizations including the school paper-sports editor, assistant editor and editor; student council vice president and president; Beta Club, Monogram Club, French Club, Quill and Scroll Society, Science Symposium, and Pep Club.

CHARLES G. BROWN

In addition he is an Eagle Scout and holder of the God and Country Award, and has participated in football and track. For two summers he served as field assistant for UNC geologists. His geology project was selected by National Science Clubs as one of 300 best projects in U.S.

William Dorset, following discussions, explanations, and answers were heard:

Committee members wanted to know why they were not informed in advance of the was later handed out at the freedom of choice blanks, why they were sent when the committee was still studying the matter and had not had time to bring in a report; and in fact some members were wondering if the board was just using the board as a front while intending all the while to cling to the freedom of choice plan in toto.

(This idea had been further fostered by material in a publication entitled "Newsletter to Negroes" which had been circulated for a week in the Negro community, and was later handed out at the memorial services for Dr. King at the courthouse on Sunday-reportedly published by a expansion was planned. In one week. Another years, Green hopes to employ 400 persons and sale will be comparable to that offered by firms in Burlington. (See Page 2)

(Continued on Page 2)

Rev. Mr. Simmons will today for Elizabethton to conduct revival with the Rev. Bob former pastor of Cross Street Baptist Church, at the Street Baptist Church for (Continued on Page 2)

Cedar Grove

Rites Planned

Community Sunrise Services for the Cedar Grove area will be held at 6 a.m. Sunday at the Cedar Grove Ruritan Club.

Robert W. Isley is general chairman.

Isley says four ministers will appear on the program.

They will include the Reverends William Brogden, Rutledge, Sheridan, Carson Wiggins and James Wood.

The program will open with the sounding of trumpets under Kenneth Latta.

Big Turnout Marks Start

For Voters

Voter registration in Orange County is running far ahead of expectations, according to Marshall Cates of the Elections Board.

Saturday, the first day under the present registration, showed approximately 800 persons signing up, according to Cates.

The election official said that was the total number anticipated for the period which continues for the next two Saturdays at the various polling places. He said registration was particularly heavy in Chapel Hill.

Cates cautioned that people who have not registered since October 1966, must do so now to be eligible to vote. A new loose-leaf system was put into use in 1966 and registrations prior to that now are avoided.

The primary election is scheduled for May 4 with a field of 24 persons to vie for

Orange County offices.

Payne Faces Tax Charge

A 34-year-old Hillsborough photographer, Clarence E. Payne, has been indicted by a federal grand jury on four counts of income tax evasion.

The IRS says Payne reported a total taxable income of approximately $2,900 for 1961-64 and that the figure should have been $24,600.

The indictment was handed down in Greensboro.

New Rural Fire Truck

Ordered by Volunteers

The Hillsborough Rural Fire Department this week placed an order for a truck which will cost $18,300 and Marshall Cates of the sponsoring Exchange Club said it will hold "nothing but the latest in equipment."

The truck will hold 500 gallons of water. A tanker, already on hand, will contain 1,300 gallons.

"We have passed the $5,000 mark in our drive," Cates said, "with 600 persons signing up. We need $5,500 more to complete the drive and feel we have 1,400 potential subscribers we have not reached."

The new truck, Cates said, will offer a 10-1 ratio, that is each gallon of water, with the new equipment, will provide protection normally afforded by 10 gallons of water.

"We are happy with our drive," Cates said. "In five weeks we have passed expectations. Now we urge those who have not signed to do so. We plan to end our drive by the end of the month."

Cates said equipment "will include many new items on the market for fire-fighting." He added:

"We want to thank all those who have served as volunteers in the drive and hope that others will sign as soon as possible."

The new truck, ordered from Beane Fire Equipment Co. of Tipton, Ind., is expected to be delivered in three or four months.

Danger

of days later several fishermen get their lines fouled and they wade into the water. In a matter of minutes their arms begin to twitch or they find themselves going blind. It has happened. Law suits could follow. The farmer could be found criminally guilty. This series is primarily concerned with the effects of crop poisons on human beings. Research in that field is in its infancy. But manufacturers of insecticides long ago realized the dangers involved in their products. Many of the substances once contained in household sprays are no longer in use. While it is still not advisable to take a deep breath in a spray-filled room, surveys show that the chances of illness from lily pads or death are considerably less than they were a few years ago.

Voter registration in Orange County is running far ahead of expectations, according to Marshall Cates of the Elections Board.

Saturday, the first day under the present registration, showed approximately 800 persons signing up, according to Cates.

The election official said that was the total number anticipated for the period which continues for the next two Saturdays at the various polling places. He said registration was particularly heavy in Chapel Hill.

Cates cautioned that people who have not registered since October 1966, must do so now to be eligible to vote. A new loose-leaf system was put into use in 1966 and registrations prior to that now are avoided.

The primary election is scheduled for May 4 with a field of 24 persons to vie for

Orange County offices.

Old News in Old Town

Oldest newspaper in the country, established 1893.

VOL. 76, NO. 15

10 PAGES

Area Negroes Quietly Honor Death of King

Two demonstrations in memory of the death of Martin Luther King Jr. were held in Hillsborough last weekend. On Friday, students at Central school formed a line, and, joined by others, marched to the courthouse and marched back.

Fred Cates, mayor of Hillsborough, said Tuesday numerous telephone threats had been received in Hillsborough this week, some at the Town Hall, which he believed originated mostly in the Chapel Hill area. The Town Board of Commissioners met Tuesday afternoon in emergency session and authorized the mayor to place a curfew into effect anytime he felt it was necessary.

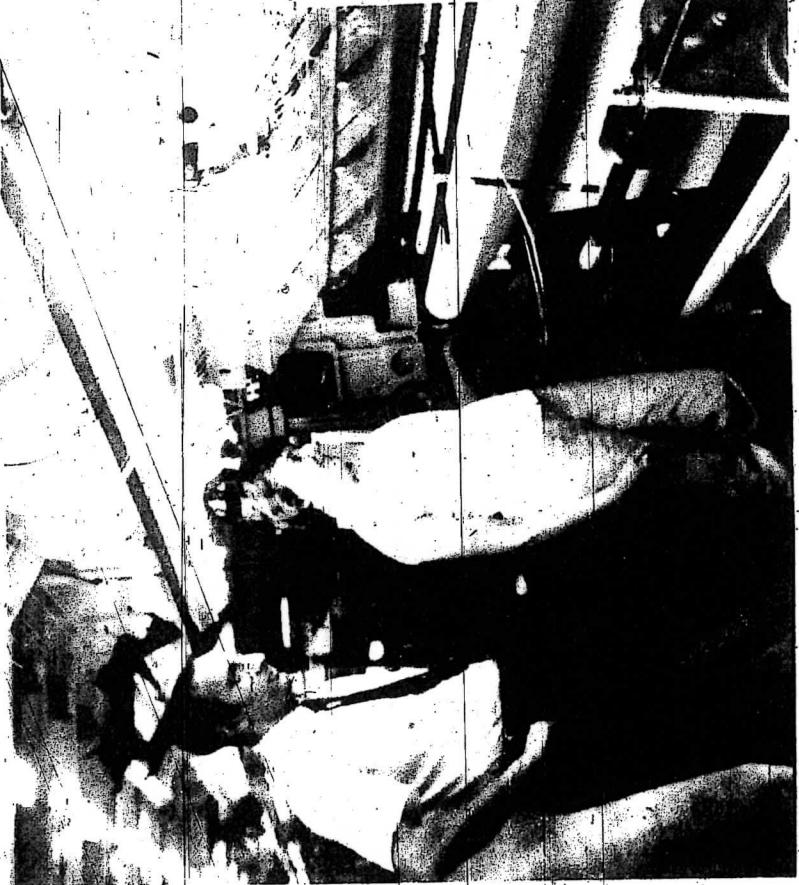

Riddick further implied that if such events do not come to pass, if the Negro history of the past is projected into the future, increasing violence would be unavoidable.

Music for the memorial services was furnished by the Mount Bright Baptist Choir. The meet was orderly throughout.

Gunfire was heard Monday night just outside Hillsborough on old highway 86, but Cates attributed it to "pranksters."

HILLSBOROUGH, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1968

School Integration For Justice

EXAMINING NEW MACHINE—Roland Green, left, and Mary Sue Medlin, an employee, are shown examining a piece of lace being woven on new machinery at Hillsborough Textiles. Green is vice president of the firm.

Hillsborough Textiles

Strong Economic Factor

Driver Finds

Hillsborough plant has 150 employees and is using materials shipped in from a companion plant, one of many gallons of water a day from the City of Hillsborough. At its infancy but beginning to spring out like a sleeping giant, present the plant is pumping 250,000 gallons a day.

Hillsborough Textiles, still in its infancy but beginning to spring out like a sleeping giant, present the plant is pumping 250,000 gallons a day.

Oldest newspaper in the country, established 1893.

HILLSBOROUGH, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1968

10 PAGES

Two demonstrations in memory of the death of Martin Luther King Jr. were held in Hillsborough last weekend. On Friday, students at Central school formed a line, and, joined by others, marched to the courthouse and marched back.

Citing the 400 years of American Negro history, he felt that there was no more time for waiting. Congress should enact the Civil Rights Act before it at once, he said, and all areas of Government and business should act to remove discrimination in their areas in housing and employment.

"We need to see representation on our school boards, black faces on our boards of county commissioners," he said. Riddick further implied that if such events do not come to pass, if the Negro history of the past is projected into the future, increasing violence would be unavoidable.

The Negroes here did not threaten, no matter how by the death of Mr. King, his action of Negroes were orderly.

Time and again, particularly in a vast majority of Hillsborough

we have commended crisis, we have commended to call them "our people" been above reproach. Other nation, could well follow their example across the nation. Elsewhere there have been disturbances. Buildings damaged. People killed in the case with "our people."

Hillsborough Negroes held memorial services. Some were marching, some were ed. Negroes, marching, hear by the death of Mr. King, his action of Negroes were orderly.

Again we must commend of a vast majority of Hillsborough we do not know how to say.